CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS DISCUSSION OF INCORPORATION ISSUE

Mayor of Walnut Creek Talks On Important Points To Local Citizens

Tuesday's meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce was given over to a talk on the issue of most vital interest to our town: incorporation.

E. B. Anderson, mayor of Walnut Creek, speaker of the day, was introduced by Harvey Braum, president of the chamber.

The mayor has been a resident of Walnut Creek for forty years, has held his present office for several terms, and has had wide experience with conditions peculiar to incorporated towns. Mr. Anderson's speech in part follows:

"I was told by your committee on incorporation that you wished to be acquainted with the disadvantages of incorporation in a small town. First of all, I want to compliment the Niles Chamber of Commerce for the numerous services they have rendered me. They have at all times given me reliable and valuable information."

Mr. Anderson went on to outline the issues upon which he based his opposition to incorporation when the fight for that measure was being carried on in Walnut Creek nine years ago. His objections were:

Firstly: The board of supervisors had promised to put a $40,000 highway through the town if it remained unincorporated.

Secondly: There was only $150,000 worth of assessayle property, which he considered too small to carry the burden.

However, Mr. Anderson admitted that since incorporation, Walnut Creek had more than overcome these difficulties. In refutation of his own arguments concerning the disadvantages, he explained that since incorporation, four highways have been put through the town, and the total assessable property at present amounts to $650,000. In addition to this, there is the business license tax, which Mr. Anderson estimates to total $1400 per year. Mentioning other advantages enjoyel by his city since incorporation, such as the vastly increased efficiency of the fire department and appreciable decrease in taxation, Mr. Anderson gave the im-

Passengers Safe As Peerless Stage Co. Bus Is Badly Burned

Answering a call turned in from Valley Vista at 11:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 30, the Decoto fire department arrived a few moments later to discover the Oakland-San Jose Peerless stage in flames. It was soon extinguished, and while the bus was not consumed, it had to be towed to a nearby garage. Five passengers who were in the bus at the time of the conflagration were badly frightened, but there were no injuries, according to reports.

Foundation Of Stone Bridge Near Completion

The concrete is now being poured for the foundations of the first of the new stone bridges in Niles Canyon. Charles A. Bruce & Son, Pleasanton, are the contractors, and the work is being hurried by them as fast as thorough workmanship will permit, in order that the job may be fully completed before the rains interfere.

There are four other bridges to be built in the canyon and these are to be started at the earliest possible moment, as all bridges must be finished before the road can be paved.

The work being done here is the result of another of Supervisor Richmond's achievements. Richmond worked long and hard in order to get the measures passed that were necessary to begin this improvement. It is another example of how faithfully Mr. Richmond has kept the paramount interests of the people of Washington township at heart.

NEW ADDITION TO BE BUILT TO DECOTO SCHOOL

Henry May, chairman of the board of trustees of the Decoto Grammar school, annouces that a two-room addition to the present building will be started immediately. The additional class room is made necessary by the increase in population of Decoto, and has been a pressing need for more than a year.

The rooms will conform to the average class room and the architecture will harmonize with the present building which was built three years ago. The auditorium will be utilized for classes until the new addition is completed.

SACRAMENTO DEATH.

Mrs. M. Sacramento, Sr., who had been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. Brown, for some time past, passed away Sunday morning. The remains were buried in the Centerville cemetery.

DUARTE PIGEONS WIN FAIR PRIZES; HOBBY REVEALED

Local Man Raising Birds On Large Scale; Has 1,000

At the State Fair now being held in Sacramento, the pigeons entered by Manuel Duarte, of Niles, won a total of seven ribbons. These included two first places for the finest Malteze pigeons in the state, and five second places for his White Kings and Red Carneaux.

Mr. Duarte, who has been in business in Washington township for a good many years, and is well known hereabouts, has made a hobby of pigeon-raising for quite some time and at present has a loft with approximately 1000 birds. He has found this occupation not only very entertaining but quite remunerative, for, though he has so far spent but a minimum of time on them, he has nevertheless realized quite some profit on the sale of the pigeons, he states. In the near future, Mr. Duarte hopes to be able to devote more time and effort to what is now just a pastime, and make of it a regular business, he said recently. These are the only pigeons being raised extensively in this locality. Hayward has long been looked upon as supreme in the development of prize poultry in this region; however, if Mr. Duarte carries out his plan of building a large, modern loft and going into the raising on a wholesale scale, Hayward will probably find itself with a serious rival.

LUNCHEON PLANNED FOR COUNTRY CLUB SEPTEMBER 11TH

The Country Club will hold its annual luncheon on September 11, which will mark the close of the vacation, and the opening meeting of the new year.

Mrs. Fluno, a singer of Alameda, heads an attractive program for the afternoon. She will be accompanied by Harry Salz. Cards will be the after-lunch entertainment.

Mrs. W. Robie, of Alvarado, president, will preside at the meeting which will be opened with the gavel ceremony adopted by the club just before it closed for the summer vacation.

All members are requested to be present as this will be one of the outstanding affairs of the year.

Hospital Luncheon Put Off

Due to the fact that September 10 is a holiday, the luncheon of the Toyan Branch of the Baby Hospital, scheduled for that date, has been postponed until September 24, which is regular meeting day. The luncheon will be held in the new Baby Hospital building, Oakland.

New Home on Third Street

Mr. M. Pementel is building a new home on 3rd street, next to the Grammar School, which will be ready for occupation about October 1.

Card of Thanks

I desire to express my sincere appreciation to those who supported me in the recent election. It is always gratifying to know that one's friends are willing to do what they can at a time when their services are most needed, and I felt throughout the recent campaign that they were giving me their very best support. I regret that I am prevented from serving the people of the First District as their supervisor but I pledge myself to continue my work as a private citizen toward its development and future prosperity.

LOCAL TAX RATE ADVANCED

JUDGMENT OF SPRING VALLEY WATER COMPANY RESPONTIBLE

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday, September 4, the tax rates for Washington Township were determined for the coming year. The rate in Niles was raised but four cents on the hundred. However, it was learned that it was asked that the rate for Niles Sanitary District be raised thirty-two cents, making it stand at $1.38. Action on this request has not yet been taken by the Board of Supervisors. The proposed measure resulted, it was stated, from the fact that the suit of the Spring Valley Water Company against Niles was won by the former, according to the decision of the court.

The Niles Fire District has asked for an additional levy of .14 also as the result of the Water Company trial.

The various rates in Washington Township now stand: Centerville Fire District, .42; Decoto Fire District, .14; Newark Fire District, .40; Alvarado Fire District, .32. Rates in the Sanitary Districts of Irvington and Union remained unchanged.

Practically all county rates were also raised. Those on which a higher amount will be charged include: County General, Advertising, Exposition, Highland Hospital Bond, and Estuary Tube Bond. The County rate now totals $1.94.

1300 COWS IN COUNTY TESTED REPORT SHOWS

High Producers in Zwissig Herd; Association Does Fine Work

Reports of the first half-year of the Alameda Cow Testing Association, show there are now 1300 cows under systematic test for producing, according to the directors who met in Hayward Friday. J. C. Doke is the cow tester.

The two highest producers during the month of August were in the herd of Zwissig Brothers, of Decoto, one showing a total of 1510 pounds of milk and 69.5 pounds of fat, and the other 1851 pounds of milk and 61.1 pounds of fat. The highest cow produced 10,690 pounds of milk and 392.7 pounds of butterfat during the last six months.

An efficiency test was made in August of the F. C. Harvey herd at Alvarado. Of the 140 cows being milked, eighteen produced over 400 pounds of butterfat, per cow; twenty-nine cows from 350 to 400 pounds; fifty-six gave from 300 to 350 pounds each, and the balance of the herd were on test only short times, or were heifers on their first tests.

E. A. Heath, of Centerville; Neil Beck, of Pleasanton; and Carl Zwissig, of Decoto, are the directors of the cow testing association. The affairs of this organization are being highly commended by T. O. Morrison, county farm advisor.

Martenstein's Vacates Building; Bank To Be Built On Site Soon

The remaining merchandise of the Martenstein store was removed over the week-end. In the near future the building will be razed. The Bank of Alameda County will construct a large bank building on the lot.

This foreshadows the beginning of business expansion in Niles.

Definite plans for the new building and date when the structure will be erected have not been announced by the bank officials.

IT'LL FAZZ THE BOOTLEGGER

DURANT, the automobile manufacturer, has offered a reward for the most feasible plan to enforce the Eighteenth amendment. Twenty-five thousand dollars is the prize for the solution of this enigma—or what dishonest public officials would have us believe is an enigma.

Well, the Register claims that twenty-five thousand right now. No use in going on with the essays and dissertations on Mr. Volsted's act, "all wet," that legally is "all dry."

Mr. Durant, we ask your indulgence while we elucidate. And in the mean time get out your check book. That twetny-five thousand dollars will come in handy. We crave another daily newspaper, and we could run a small one at least a couple years on that little sum of money.

And here is our plan:

Suspend fines.

First offense, six months in the county jail, on a bread and water and bean soup diet, with eight hours spent "making little ones out of big ones." Second offense, one year in the penitentiary, allowing the culprit the diversion of sweating a daily shift in the jute mill.

If there was a third offense, about two years in partial solitary confinment should cure the worst offender and make him "go straight" henceforth.

In the case of naturalized foreigners or aliens, the first offense should be similar to his native-born bootlegger pal in iniquity. The second offense, would penalize the offender with withdrawal of his citizenship papers, if possessing the document, and deportation to his native heath, that he might for the rest of his days enjoy his vaunted "personal liberty" amid the squalid surrounding which he left to come to America to enjoy opportunity and democratic government.

Mr. Durant, we believe our formula has a kick in it like a mule. Try out our plan a year, and the famed Sahara will be nothing compared with the parchedness of the American landscape.

Address us care of Township Register, Niles.

Now, for that little daily. Let's see; who has one for sale, at a bargain price?

WE OWE THEM MUCH

DOCTOR LAW, together with other forward-thinking and acting men of Niles, is rapidly shaping up the preliminaries incident to getting the matter of incorporation put to a vote in this city.

The community owes much to men of the type of Law who are willing and anxious to give time and money to promote a progressive movement. Neglecting their own business, citizens who are saturated with community loyalty, not only sacrifice their valuable time but antagonize certain elements who are always against any idea, regardless of its merit, just to be contrary if nothing more.

Incorporation is coming. Niles is moving forward. The mental attitude of its citizens is changing—their vision broadening. The people here are taking the big, generous view of community life, perhaps for the first time in many years. We are becoming proud of our town, and jealous of its good name, and determined to see progress made in growth, in better living conditions—determin-

LUSTIG'S TO BUILD TWO STORY HOME; ADD NEW LINES

Sacrifice Sale to Clear Store of Large Stock of Goods

Lustig Furniture and Hardware Company will construct a $25,000 building on their present lots in Hayward about October 15. The new building is to be constructed by Rubenstein and Williams, contractors of Oakland, with E. P. Whitman, of Hayward, the artchitect. The structure will be finished in ninety days.

The first floor will be eighteen feet with a mezzanine floor on the sides. The second floor will be eight feet high and contain one room 68x120 feet in size, which will hold a huge quantity of merchandise. The first floor will be divided into two parts: first, a room 68 feet square; second, a room 52 by 68. The latter will be devoted to plumbing supplies and the like and will open on Watkins street.

There will be an hydraulic lift for freight, and a staircase eight feet broad for customers going up stairs. With large plate glass windows on three sides, the store will be especially well lighted.

During the big sale which was advertised in last week's Register the merchandise will be sold from an adjoining lot, but at present the firm is using the old building. The entire stock is being sacrificed to clean up everything.

RALLY DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT NILES CHURCH

Expect To Break Attendance Records at this Meeting

Sunday, September 16, has been chosen as the annual Rally Day at the Niles Congregational church. Every child, youth or adult who has ever attended the local church school is requested to be present if he or she still lives in Niles.

The officers and teachers of the school are also anxious that any who should be attending be on hand on that day.

As usual, there are a number of children who will be 4, 5 or 6 years old this fall. There are classes for these little folks and now is the time to start them.

A special Rally Day program will be observed Sunday and teachers both old and new will be on hand to assign the first lessons of the church school year.

The highest Rally Day atendance in the Niles church for several years has been seventy-two. Those in charge of this Rally Day are anxious to break that record and ask the co-operation of all protestants in the community.

Rally Day will also be observed in the church service and the Christian Endeavor.

DONT'S

By J. R. STEVENSON

Don't think you have to read all the books in the world to be considered educated. Strike out a line for yourself and know that line, whether it is architecture, history, chicken raising or the South Sea Islands.

Don't give too much time ti fiction. It is a lazy way of reading although most people do it. A person who reads fiction habitually is like a girl who tries to live on chewing gum and candy. If you end up in an asylum it will be your own fault. Read something to nourish your gray matter.

Don't be too modern in your reading. Remember that modern writers couldn't begin to assemble a team which would stand any chance against the writers of the past. Victor Hugo is far better than Sinclair Lewis and Thomas Carlyle could give Harry Emerson Fosdick a long start and beat him.

Don't think that book which is lying on the piano is yours because you had it a long time. Return it to its proper owner and square yourself with the world.

Don't depend on the public library for your reading. Accumulate a library of your own. Boks will give an air of distinction to your home.

Don't mark or tear any book which is not yours. Anyone who will misuse a borrowed book will steal their neighbors corn or do something equally mean.

Don't spend too much time on big newspapers. Crime stories are dished up for inferior readers. They satisfy morbid minds of which the world is already overcrowded. Tell me what you read and I will tell you what you are.

MORE ON Chamber of Commerce

pression that the benefits of the step were vastly greater than the detriments. In fact when questioned, he admitted such to be his opinion, saying:

"I would favor incorporation here at once. The assessed valuation is twice that of Walnut Creek. The limit of taxation is $1.00 per hundred. This rate includes upkeep of water, sewer, fire, poor, and incidental expenses. The returns from this also cover the marshall's salary. My taxes, for instance, were $51 this year, considerably less than was paid for public subscription previous to incorporation.

"The initial cost of incorporation is small, and we pay only $100 a year for city legal fees. The word 'incorporation' is an undoubted asset to a town, moreover. However, in order to make the think a success, there must be some public-spirited citizens in the town who are willing to give their services gratis to handle the civic duties, as there are no municipal salaries paid in a city of the sixth class. The citizens of my town do not complain of their taxes."

After mentioning several other minor points in answer to queries, Mr. Anderson concluded his talk with the emphatic statement:

"I, personally, would not now live in a town that was not incorporated."

Upon Mr. Anderson's conclusion, Lester Duffy voiced the appreciation of the Chamber, saying:

"You have given us as much valuable information today as we have been able to gather in the past six months."

Mrs. Anderson was the guest of honor.

A letter of appreciation from Geo. C. Roeding, Jr., was read by Mr. Braun.

A report is now being prepared, estimating the amount of taxation as it will be in Niles under incorporation, in recognition of the fact that this is of paramount interest to the taxpayers.

REDWOOD PEOPLE PROMISED OUTLET ROAD; BOARD ACTS

Include $100,000 In Budget For Expenses Of Needed Work

Redwood Canyon's long fight to get its southerly outlet restored has, apparently, been won. The board of supervisors yielding to the petition of various Eden township bodies have put $100,000 in the budget for this road.

When Lake Chabot was formed, Redwood canyon lost its outlet via Castro Valley. At that time the supervisors neither compelled the East Bay Water Company to build a new road, nor built one themselves. It was up to the water company to spend the money.

Redwood years ago began a struggle to get a new road, but was unsuccessful. Finally, this summer, delegations from the Redwood Improvement Club began canvassing organizations of Eden township and South Oakland. The council of Hayward and the Federated Clubs gave support and furthered the cause.

Roads to Romance
with Jack and Ethyl

Being the original letters of a young wife on her honeymoon over the Pacific Coast to the girl-friend back home.

Dear Marion and Jim:

Still heading south; Jack thinks that we'll be back home by the first of October—just in time for the football games! Have you written for your tickets yet? We sent our requests air mail; sure hope we get them, but if we miss out on any we can listen in on the broadcasts.

We've been in Oregon for the past week and it is certainly a delightful time of year to be here. Over at Bend, in Central Oregon, it was just like being in a great natural park, with the cool Des Chutes river flowing through it. The town nestles under giant pine trees on a bend in the river (hence its name). The people seem awfully pleased to have visitors and we had a great time.

You make the trip over there from Eugene on the famous McKenzie Pass highway, which is all that has been written about it I can assure you. This country owes its present beauty and interest to the fires of the earth in the Miocene age. That sounds bad, but it made a most wonderful scenic region. They say that oceans of lava welled up out of yawning fissures, flaming mountains came into existence, and night and day volcanoes hurled ashes everywhere, with clouds of steam and rivers of molten rock.

We saw the Three Sisters mountains, which are supposed to be the remains of a mighty mountain that blew up in those early days. And great lava beds that remind you of Dante's Inferno. It was awe-inspiring, yet right along the highway was a beautiful stream that has trout in it, we were told, great stands of trees were everywhere and the scenery was amazing. The whole McKenzie Highway trip has so much variety and so many interesting things to see and do that you're bound to enjoy it.

After we got to Eugene we went out with some college students to the "Anchorage," a popular college rendezvous, and had a good swim, a delicious dinner and a fine dance. Jack almost forgets he's a married man when he gets into a college town, but then, I didn't have such a bad time myself. There was a fellow there, Marion, with the most fascinating—but I'll tell you about him when I see you.

Love,
ETHYL

P. S.—The Associated Oil Company would have thought their honeymoon trip for us was breaking up if they'd seen us at that dance, I guess. But they needn't worry; Jack and I still think quite a bit of each other.

NILES MAN BUYS RELIC IN OAKLAND

The other day while George Richards was in Oakland he happened to see an old man in tears in front of a second-hand store with a picture in his arms. Upon inquiring what the trouble was he found out that the owner of the store had refused to buy the fellow's picture. Mr. Richards asked the old man if he could see the picture. At once he saw that he had a very valuable oil painting of the old mission in Mission San Jose. The name of the painter was eradicated but the date when it was painted, 1797, was still visible.

The picture of the mission is much different than the present restored building. In 1797 it had two stories, and a much different shape than it has now.

The hand-painting is now hanging in the home of Israel Richards. The picture is worth many times what was paid for it.

"Laugh, Clown, Laugh" To Come Here Sunday

On Sunday and Monday, Sept. 9 and 10, the greatest character actor of the screen comes to the Niles Theatre in one of his greatest vehicles. Lon Chaney, called the "man of a thousand faces," is to appear in his latest picture, "Laugh, Clown, Laugh." This shows Chaney in the role of a circus clown, a famous jester of the sawdust ring, who loves the beautiful bareback rider. But the girl loves another man in the circus, younger and handsomer. How Chaney's heart is broken when he discovers this; how he carries on in spite of his sorrow; and the great sacrifice he makes for the girl he loves form the basis of the plot in this extremely entertaining and worth while play.

THE NEW FARMING ACCOUNT SCHOOL

The good business farmer today watches his farm accounts carefully. In respect to his labor, his farm stock and his soil, he knows what they can do and how they can be most profitably handled. He knows the mathematics of growing feed from the soil, pigs and poultry from the feed and cash profits from pigs and poultry. He knows whether he is milking the cow for paying returns or the cow is milking him out of his invested capital. Wherever his accounts show a deficit or insufficient profit on one or more items, he immediately studies to overcome the handicap and correct any mistakes that have been made.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association is conducting a nationwide educational campaign for better methods of farm accounting. The commission has been stressing the wisdom of country bankers through cooperation of county agents, calling farmers together, and holding account schools where instruction is given on the use of the farm account books.

Each person is led through the various steps in keeping accounts and each enters his own inventory which he has previously been instructed to take and bring to school. This gives a good start and when properly followed up by letters and an occasional visit by the specialist in charge, greatly aids the man who is really in earnest to come through his first year of keeping accounts successfully. Many times country banks offer the rooms for holding the account schools. In some instances, an employe of the bank is designated to assist farmer patrons during the year in keeping their accounts.

HOW TO GO BROKE FARMING

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Don't stop gullies or grow cover crops—let the top soil wash away, then you will have "bottom" land.
6. Don't plan your farm operations It's hard work thinking—trust to luck
7. Regard your woodland as you would a coal mine, cut every tree, sell the timber and wear the cleared land out cultivating it in corn.
8. Hold fast to the idea that the methods of farming employed by your grandfather are good enough for you.
9. Be independent—don't join with your neighbors in any form of cooperation.
10. Mortgage your farm for every dollar it will stand to buy things you would have the cash to buy if you followed a good system of farming—Division of Extension University of Tennessee.

MISSION SMASH-UP SCATTERS BREAD, PLOUGHS GARDEN

Car Jumps Creek, And Plunges Through Fence

Saturday evening, Frank Rodrigues, driver of the Portugese-American Bakery wagon, while driving to a Portugese celebration in Hayward with a load of bread was the victim of a peculiar smash-up, just out of Mission San Jose.

Williams, a Negro chauffeur who was driving a car belonging to Margaret Hall, of Oakland, towards Mission, smashed into the front wheel of the bakery wagon, went through a fence, jumped a ditch and ploughed up a garden, throwing turf, rose bushes and shrubbery in all directions.

Inspector John A. Goodnight, of Oakland, who appeared on the scene shortly after the acident occured estimated that the chauffeur was hitting sixty miles an hour.

Although this was a strange accident and the car ran amuck, neither party was injured. Bread was scattered on the highway rather than cast upon the waters. Mrs. Hall's car is in the American Garage in a badly damaged condition.

According to the Livermore Journal, Mrs. Lucio was a patient of the Livermore Sanitarium and committed suicide by hanging herself with a towel which was fastened to the head of the bed and twisted about her throat. She is the third patient to commit suicide there recently. In all three cases the act was brought about by despondency caused by ill health.

She is survived by her husband; Constance, a daughter; and Leonard, a son.

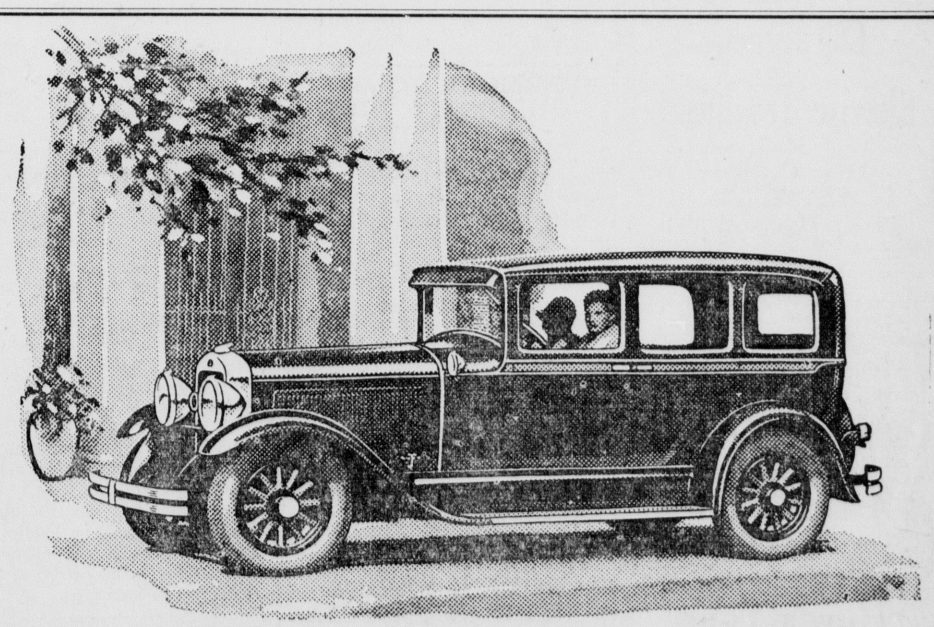
New Studebaker President Eignt Popular Model



Studebaker's President Eight at a new low price of $1685, is distinguished by beautiful new body lines and a straight eight motor of 109 horsepower, delivering 80 miles an hour speed. Four strictly stock Presidents recently traveled 30,000 miles each on Atlantic City Speedway in less than 30,000 minutes.

THE OUTSTANDING value of Studebaker's new President Straight Eight Sedan, listing at $1685 f. o. b factory, has made it within two months of its introduction one of the most popular cars ever built by the corporation, according to reports received by the Studebaker Corporation from dealers all over the United States.

"Judged by any standard of comparison, the new President Eight offers more automobile than $1685 ever bought before," said Mr. Rose, local Studebaker-Erskin dealer, on receiving this report from Studebaker headquarters in South Bend.

"In mechanical respects the President Eight, at its new low price, has won much enthusiastic praise from automotive critics. It is powered with Studebaker's famous 109 horsepower straight eight motor which provides flashing 80 mile-an-hour performance. Safety is assured by amplified action mechanical four wheel brakes which stop the car in less than half the distance established under standard safety codes.

"The new Studebaker radiator on the President Eight is particularly handsome. It is deep and narrow, brightly plated with chromium over nickel, and carries a flat radiator cap with a winged motif which is also carried out in the massive headlamps. An added touch of style is the "8" medallion between the headlamps.

"The exterior beauty of the President is matched by the luxury and comfort of its interior. The wide, form fitting seats are scientifically shaped and the rear seat is flanked by comfortable arm rests. The many fitments include a conveniently placed ash receiver. Upholstery is of fine mohair.

"With all its speed, beauty and luxury, The President also offers a new standard of riding comfort as a result of Studebaker's new and exclusive ball bearing spring shackles, which have been called the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the development of the balloon tire. They eliminate squeaks and rattles, prevent sidesway, and need inspection only at 20,000 mile intervals, when lubricant may be added if necessary.

"With hydraulic shock absorbers, which are standard equipment front and rear, long, resilient springs and deep, form fitting lounge seats of new design, these patented ball bearing spring shackles form an unbeatable combination for riding comfort."

Within eighty days the present bulidings occupied by the Sherman Electric and the City Water Company will be razed. There, a two story building will be erected by Mr. May at a cost of $30,000.

Signing of the lease by J. C. Penney, of New York, follows the recent decision of the Montgomery Ward Company to open a branch store in the Harder building now being constructed on the corner of A and Main streets, and the annoucement of the Lustig Furniture Company of its decision to erect a $25,000 building at A and Watkins streets.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Oakland Names Carr Legislative Counsel

On Saurday, Sept. 1, Frank M. Carr, former state senator from the thirteenth district of Alameda county, was sworn in as legislative counsel for the city of Oakland during the coming legislative session.

The post was one recently created at the suggestion of Commissioner of Revenue and Finance Eugene K. Sturgis, in order that Oakland's interests may be protected in the legislature.

Tenure of office is for the nine months of the coming session. The salary is $350 a month. Carr was sworn in by Homer W. Buckley, deputy city attorney.

Carr will take up his duties at Sacramento at the opening of the special legislative session on Tuesday, Sept. 4, and will continue in office through adjournment until start of the regular session in January.

Mrs. J. R. Whipple and neice have returned from their vacation spent at Sonora.

Telephone service, a public trust

THE widespread ownership of the Bell Telephone System places an obligation on its management to guard the savings of its hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

Its responsibility for so large a part of the country's telephone service imposes an obligation that the service shall always be adequate, dependable and satisfactory to the user.

The only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

There is then in the Bell System no incentive to earn speculative or large profits. Earnings must be sufficient to assure the best possible service and the financial integrity of the business. Anything in excess of these requirements goes toward extending the service or keeping down the rates.

This is fundamental in the policy of the company.

The Bell System's ideal is the same as that of the public it serves—the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the user. It accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.

KING & MADRUGA ADDED TO LIST OF ADVERTISERS

The business men of Washington township are quite evidently convinced that advertising in the Register is a worth-while business investment. At the present, practically every firm in the district is regularly represented in these columns.

The latest addition to the list of advertisers is the well-known firm of King and Madruga, proprietors of the Centervile Garage and Machine Shop, and agents for the entire line of Graham-Paige motor cars in Washington township. In taking on the Graham-Paige agency, this firm is handling one of the very finest motor cars on the market, and they realize that only through the medium of the Register can they acquaint the public with the values they offer.

ed that civic betterment shall be ever the aspiration of Niles citizens.

Take a glance at Hayward. Note the new buildings that are constantly going up there—the new firms that are entering the commercial arena of our neighbor. Expansion is moving south. Woolworth, Montgomery Ward and Penny have seen the possibilities of the south bay region. Chrysler has come to the coast and located at San Leandro. All this is beneficial in a certain measure to Niles and Washington township.

We will grow. Nothing can stop activity here. But we can accelerate the movement of business south by the proper conduct in civic matters. We must assume the responsibilities of local government if we hope to grasp the better things that are our natural inheritance by grace of transportation facilitiies and incomparable scenic location.

Let us get behind Law and his lieutenants, and make his and their task easier.

The Register commends this public spirited man and his coworkers.

Success will be the reward—the only reward he and they ask. And that reward appears auspiciously on the horizon.

SILENCE IS DAMNING!

THE REGISTER has a great deal of faith in the people. The collective unit of citizenship may err in judgment—may grope about, apparently aimlessly, while selfish interests are erecting legal bulwarks to protect what they already unfairly possess, and through governmental agencies extending special privileges—privileges that rob the ordinary man and woman of that which, according to the principle of democratic government, is his just heritage: equality before the law, opportunity with every other individual to advance financially, intellectually, socially according to ability, industry and determination.

Having faith in the ultimate and final decision of the majority—once they become fully acquainted with the facts—we are not discouraged that the voters in the primary election re-nominated Christian to the state senate from this district.

The Register cannot believe—will not believe—that the average citizen of America, even a naturalized citizen who spent his formative years under the most despotic kingdom of continental Europe, would elect Christian to office if the majority of electors were fully acquainted with this man's record.

The writer has mixed in politics many years, and been a close student of things governmental, but never before have we known an official with a voting record as reprehensible as that of this man, who calls himself "Christian." What a misnomer—"Christian." How little his public performance has harmonized with his name. How little he has absorbed the teachings of the Man of Galilee.

Search his political life through the legislative and senatorial journals and not once in all that time has Christian risen in his seat to defend the weak and oppressed; during all his career has the cry of anguish touched his heart. Nor once in those years of servility to corporate interests, has his vote been cast to ameliorate the conditions of poverty; never a vote cast to equalize opportunity in California.

One of but three men in the senate, "Christian"—how crass to call him by such a name—a name acquired by the process of judicial decree—shouted a negative vote when the amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting child labor was approved by the senate of California. And when his voice rang out that "no" a deep shame was cast upon the fair name of the citizens of this, the Thirteenth Senatorial district—a blot that will ever remain until the electors rise as a unit and cast him out—he who has betrayed the humanitarian impulses of men and women through whose veins still run the blood of human beings—not mere machines without pity or bowels of compassion.

The voters did not know—could not have known over the district the record of this man. Certainly if they had, they would have harmonized their ballots with those of Niles and elected Bowles.

But the fight is not over, as the Hayward "Christian" may smuggly believe. The general election is ahead in November. Henry E. Harwood is the Democratic nominee. He will challenge the right of Christian to again misrepresent the people of this district in the state senate.

The papers of this district have a duty to perform, a duty that they cannot escape with a clear conscience. The function of a newspaper is to protect the public—to fight its battles against intolerance and injustice. A grave matter is ahead of us in this locality. Information will defeat Christian. Are the papers going to remain silent in this hour when a throw-back to European despotism, makes his campaign for re-election? We cannot believe so.

We have faith in the people, and in the incorruptibility of the small newspaper. The metropolitan sheet is the voice of the big interests, but the country weekly is the bulwark of good government, "against which the gates of hell shall not prevail."
